Higher Budget Approved By Carmel School Board

A school budget which totals $3,322,491 for the coming school year, $407,799 more than last year, was approved last night by the Carmel Unified School Board. The difference is due to average salary increases of 8.6 per cent for teachers and administrators and 7.5 per cent for non-teaching help for the most part. The increase amounts to 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Half of the increase will be raised by using the rest of the 37 cent override, of which only 27 cents has been in effect. The rest will be raised by raising permissive levies for retirement, health and welfare benefits.

Details of expenditures are as follows: Administration $115,553 up $18,928; Instruction $2,127,975 up $311,156; Health Services $25,082 up $2,509; Transportation $112,786 up $22,820; Plant Operation $245,359 up $27,086; Maintenance $136,522 up $4,537; Fixed Charges $225,967 up $30,178; Food Services $2,731 up $162.

Community Services totalled $68,114 up $3,153 (Board president Clayton Neill cited the need for establishing priorities such as tennis courts for Middle School and dressing rooms at Tularacitos swimming pool). Capital Outlay for site improvement, buildings, library books and equipment $16,604 down $9,134; Debt Service $1,829 up $325; Tuition for continuation, mentally retarded, deaf and blind schools $6,000 up $1,400; Undistributed Reserve $68,032 up $14,679; Revolving Cash Fund $400 same; General Reserve $60,000.

The Adult School budget amounts to $95,295 up $8,741; Cafeteria budget $15,628 down $488. Building Fund budget is $94,745 which will be spent on three room primary addition at Tularacitos.

There will be an estimated average daily attendance of 2106 elementary students and 1144 high school students, an increase of 4.5 per cent. Assessed Valuation is estimated to be $88,358,491 an increase of 7.9 per cent.

Walter Hinton, business manager for the district was complimented by the board for his clear and easily understandable budget presentation.

Bay School Plan Buys Time

A plan for the rehabilitation of Bay School was approved by the Carmel School Board to begin work probably before July 31, 1970 and no later than June 30, 1971. A letter will be sent to State which requires a plan before September for structures considered unsafe for school children.

Tularacitos Primary

Working drawings of the three-room kindergarten and primary addition to Tularacitos School were shown to the board by Mr. Fred Keeble of Keeble and Rhoda, architects.

The two large kindergarten rooms will not be divided at present; they will be carpeted, with large vinyl areas for painting, and sound deadening ceilings. In the center core of the building is a windowed teacher's room where parents could observe during a conference. An outdoor patio will have raised garden areas where children may plant and tend animals; an outside sink and work area; and storage for large equipment.

In an effort to build an exemplary unit, all the kindergarten and primary teachers in the district were consulted.

The board approved the hiring of two teachers for a month for development of materials as proposed by the District Mathematics Curriculum Committee.

Who's Been Sleeping In My Bed?

Last week Mrs. E. J. Mulrooney complained to the Police Department that there were evidences that someone had been sleeping on the patio of the Woman's Club.

At the next meeting of the Club, a young man approached the women and asked if his wash cloth was there. It was, and was still hanging on the faucet. He stated he had been sleeping there and forgot his wash cloth.

One note of encouragement. He did wash himself.

"Midsummer Night's Dream" Will be Shown At Golden Bough Theatre

Nearly 100 friends and parents of Children's School-Montessori spent a delightful Sunday afternoon June 16th listening to the concert given by Miss Susan Pavick at the Henry Huntington's home in Pebble Beach. Miss Pavick, a marvelously talented piano student of Adolph Baller, played a program of Chopin, Bartok, Haydn, Moussorgsky and Debussey with an encore by Scarlatti.

Primary purpose of the weekend party was to acquaint interested local people with the Montessori method of education and with the goals of the present fund raising drive. Robert Beck, Board Chairman of Friends of Montessori, discussed the history of the Children's School, its relation to the public schools and the role that Dr. Montessori's work has played in advancing education in many countries. Funds now being raised will provide an addition to the present buildings. This will permit the school to enroll students up to third grade level. Present facilities allow only pre-schoolers and first graders to be accomodated.

The major event of this fund campaign will be the special preview, benefit showing of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" filmed by the Royal Shakespearean Company of London. Film rights for the event were given to the school by Mr. Martin Ransohoff of Big Sur. The gala event will be followed by a champagne reception and dancing. Tickets are available through Mrs. Augusta Lowe, 372-7236, from Abinantes and from the Golden Bough Theatre where the Gala will be staged on June 25th at 8:30 p.m.

Theatre Review

LIVE FOR LIFE . . . A newspaper man's life is twisted by the violence he reports. Directed by Claude Lelouch, "A Man and a Woman."

MADIGAN . . . Starring Henry Fonda and Richard Widmark, MADIGAN is an action-paced drama about a New York police man-hunt.

DOUBLE MAN . . . Yul Brynner, a CIA operative, investigates the odd death of his son in an Austrian skiing accident. He runs into East German agents.

YOURS, MINE, AND OURS . . . A very funny picture with Lucille Ball and Henry Fonda. Don't let the TV Lucy keep you away, she does a fine job in this movie.

GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER . . . Winner of several Academy Awards, this movie which deals with race "relations" is probably about 30 minutes too long.

THE PRIVATE NAVY OF SERGEANT O'FARRELL . . . Bob Hope and Phyllis Diller in a laugh riot about the army and the navy trying to get beer and girls during WWII.

FITZWILLIE . . . Our favorite Dick Van Dyke plays a servant who steals to provide money for his mistress.

THE GRADUATE, interesting, if not completely compelling comedy.

GRAND PRIX . . . a beautiful film cinemagraphically speaking. Stars actually race at high speeds while filming this magnificent picture in 70 mm film. Full stereophonic sound adds to the impact.

THE PARTY . . . Peter Sellers teams with Claudine Longet to bring to the movie industry another Sellers great. He plays a bungling film star who "crashes" a posh party.

BEDAZZLED . . . A cook sells his soul to the devil so that he might woo the waitress of his dreams.

Little League Excitement Builds

The Carmel Little League standings Monday saw Derek Rayne and Boy's Town tied for 1st place for the second half. Boy's Town has already won the first half and is pushing hard for a clean sweep.

Derek Rayne was pitted against the Sports Shop in Monday evening's game and after a bad start, won it 11-7, putting pressure on Boy's Town who was scheduled to play P. A. McCreery on Tuesday. Boy's Town lost the big one to McCreery in an overtime bout which went on until McCreery scored two runs ending in a 4-2 victory.

Now, it is up to Derek Rayne to win next Friday, their last game, to be the undisputed champions of the second half of the season. They won only one game during the first half and lost one during the second half, as it stands now.

Regardless of what happen now, Derek Rayne and Boys Town will meet in a play-off to determine the best team of the 1968 Little League Season.

An Experience In Berlin

Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Winslow returned from Europe last week. The main objective of their trip had been the 30th anniversary reunion of the 56th Royal Air Force Squadron in London. Mr. Winslow was a World War I flying Ace with the 56th and said that of the original 200 members, 20 are still alive He was one of six that attended the reunion. The other five are now Air Marshalls.

After London, the Winslow's visited West Berlin as guests of General Dorn. This included a trip into East Berlin where they attended a ballet at the Berlin Opera House. On their return to West Berlin they were not in the General's car and were stopped at Check Point Charlie, their passports taken (temporarily) and they were unnecessarily detained. This was apparently during the beginning of the new border harassment program started by the Russians.

Another interesting experience was a helicopter ride over West Berlin in which they enjoyed a detailed view of the city and Spandall Prison where Rudolph Hess is still held at a cost of millions of dollars each year to the U. S. and its allies.

Before returning home, the Winslow's also visited Portugal and Scotland.

Julie Fehring of 'Sing Out' Cast Is CHS Graduate

Commencement exercises at Carmel High School last week included Julie Fehring, who has been away for the past two years traveling with a cast of the national Moral Rearmament Sing Out group. She was graduated in the top 10 per cent and has been accepted for admission to Stanford.

Julie will attend an MRA conference in New York City this summer, then join her cast, which sang most recently in Scandinavian countries, for appearances in this country and Canada.

Goodbye To FaFou

Goodbyes were said to Anne Francoise Bathiat, Carmel High School's AFS foreign exchange student from France, at a picnic Sunday, June 16.

AFS Club members and interested families gathered at the Riverside Campgrounds in Big Sur for a cook-out. The popular "FaFou," as she is known to her friends, was presented with a going-away present by Gordon Clemens, last year's president of the Carmel Chapter of AFS. Her gift was the lovely book, Not Man Apart, published by the Sierra Club featuring Robinson Jeffers.

FaFou has been a member ber of the James Harkins family. Betsy and Cassy have been her American "sisters."

On Thursday Miss Bathiat joins other AFS students from California for a three-week bus tour of the United States, ending in New York and thence to their respective homes.

Carmel AFS Chapter has enjoyed FaFou and is looking forward to the arrival of their new AFS student this fall.

Grandson's Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Bell of Carmel have just returned home after spending last weekend in Southern California to attend the high school graduation of their grandson, David Bell. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Daniel Bell, both former Carmel residents and Carmel High School graduates.

Farewell To Geisens

Jack and Micheline Geisen, who left last week for Great Britain and Europe, were given a unique farewell gift in the form of a classical guitar concert by their host, John Upton, who with Mrs. Upton, had planned a champagne buffet for their friends.

The Geisens have changed their plans to include a visit to England, Ireland and Scotland before flying to Switzerland and then to the coast of Sardinia. Their planned visit to France is rather "iffy" due to strikes and such.

John took off yesterday for Guadalajara from which he plans to visit the Copan ruins in Honduras and Quirigua in Guatemala. He will travel by boat, bus and train to the southern Mexican ports and Yucatan and El Salvador.

Bach Festival Committee Feted At Dahl Home

A party for Bach Festival committee members is being held today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Dahl in Pebble Beach. Mrs. Walter Lehman is chairman of the housing committee.

Maestro and Mrs. Sandor Salgo, who arrived this week from Stanford University, and Mrs. Ralph Linsley, harpsichordist, who arrived from Los Angeles, will be on hand to make some final plans. This is veteran Linsley's 30th year with the Festival.

Bound For Europe

Frank McKee, son of Col. and Mrs. Gregg L. McKee (USA-ret.) of Carmel, left last week for Europe. About 20 of his Carmel High classmates saw him off at the airport.

He sailed from New York City on the student ship, M.S. Aurelia for Europe where he will join Hank Snow for a summer of touring. Hank is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold Snow, who have a home in Carmel. At present the Snows are stationed in Stuttgart, Germany.

Dr. Margaret Mead Guest of Heaths

Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist, writer and lecturer, was guest of Dr. and Mrs. Scott Heath of Rancho Rio Vista, last weekend.

Purpose of the visit was to plan for Barbara's forthcoming expedition to New Guinea where she will continue a study of physical anthropology of Manus Island, 300 miles north of New Guinea, in July and August. The study was started in Pere village in 1966 where Margaret Mead went first in 1928 and returned 25 years later in 1953 to write "New Lives for Old." To reach the village, the last 15 miles will be made in an outrigger canoe.

Dr. Heath will do a preliminary survey of eye conditions, and return in July. In August, Barbara will go to Japan to attend the Eighth International Congress of Anthropology where she will give a paper.

War In Vietnam

"An Explanation"

by Norman C. Stines, Jr.

The following is an excerpt from a letter written by Norman C. Stines to his aunt Donna L. Prebble of Pebble Beach. We have deviated from our usual policy of confining our reporting to local events in this instance because this appears to be a very clear presentation of a situation confusing many of us.

Norman C. Stines, Jr. was associated with the U. S. Diplomatic Service from 1938 thru 1953. His work was in South America, Yugoslavia and Russia. His final station was in Moscow during 1952, 1953, the last years of Stalin. Under Ambassador (Admiral) Kirk he was First Secretary of that Embassy where he was in charge of the Economic Unit and International Reporting. Mr. Stines has written a fiction novel about Soviet Union Politics which he has recently submitted for publication.

I don't think one should make too much out of the fact that South Vietnam is unrepresented at the negotiations. There is a very good reason for this. South Vietnam is not at war with North Vietnam, whereas we are. We are at war with North Vietnam because of the attack made on our units in the Tonkin Gulf. We, not the South Vietnamese, responded to that attack by bombing North Vietnam. It is our planes, not South Vietnam planes, that have been carrying on the bombing ever since. And it is our armed forces, not South Vietnam, that have countered North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam across the so-called neutral zone along the border between the two countries. The North Vietnamese are meeting with us in Paris not to negotiate for peace in South Vietnam, but to demand that we cease our attacks on North Vietnam. As long as the negotiations are restricted to this demand, South Vietnam has no place in them.

The war in South Vietnam is an entirely different question, though our war with North Vietnam is directly related to it. The war in South Vietnam is a civil war between the Vietcong (who are rebels based inside South Vietnam, though supported by arms, equipment, and manpower sent across the border by North Vietnam) and the South Vietnamese Government. Neither the Vietcong nor the South Vietnamese Government is a party to the present negotiations in Paris. They will become a party to those negotiations only when we and the South Vietnamese so agree. As of the present, we do not recognize the Vietcong, because we say the Vietcong is merely an arm of North Vietnam by which the latter is committing aggression against South Vietnam in violation of the Geneva accords. This is denied by North Vietnam, and of course the denial is a lie. It is true, however, that the Vietcong started out in the beginning as a largely independent force based in South Vietnam and has become increasingly an instrument of North Vietnam only in recent years until it has become doubtful that the Vietcong could exist without North Vietnam's assistance. Likewise, the North Vietnamese do not recognize the government of South Vietnam, because they say it is merely a puppet government created and sustained by our intervention. There is all too much truth, unfortunately, in this allegation.

I am completely opposed to our intervention in Vietnam. It was a horrible mistake. But having said this, we must recognize that we cannot now withdraw without the gravest consequences. That is our difficulty. For neither can we "win the war" without still graver consequences. We cannot win the war without destroying Vietnam, south and north, virtually in its entirety. Or at worst, we cannot win it without engaging in atomic war, first of all with China, because we could not defeat China unless we used atomic weapons. The people who now blithely tell us we should go in and win the war are people either not aware of the full cost or they underestimate the dangers. Such people believe that the Communists have a master plan for world conquest directed from some center such as Moscow. Whether or not there was ever such a plan, it has since been shattered by events within the Communist world. We cannot even be sure today to what extent the North Vietnamese are acting independently of the Russians and Chinese. True, they are dependent on the Russians for their advanced military weapons, and in view of this dependence, I suppose we can assume that the Vietnamese are to some degree acting on behalf of the Russians, or the Russians would not be supporting them. But if there is one thing consistent in past Russian policy, it is the avoidance of a direct engagement in military conflict. There are no Russians fighting in South Vietnam, and while there are Russians in North Vietnam, there is no evidence as yet that they are doing more than man anti-aircraft missiles and possibly escorting the North Vietnamese air force, but remember that the latter does not cross over into South Vietnam.

What then can we expect of negotiations? I would say we can expect nothing as long as the North Vietnamese (and the Russians) are convinced we cannot win, or they and the Russians are convinced the continuation of the war represents no greater danger than at present to themselves. But in judging their expectations, we must be careful to separate Chinese expectations from what both the North Vietnameses and Russians might expect. We are not dealing with a monolithic force, but a divided band, in which there is quite probably as much division as on our side. This becomes, then, an extremely complex question. We cannot yet be sure whether negotiations might not lead to some advantages for us.

Movie Maker Uses Pine Cone Salesman

Dewey Hunter of the Peninsula Home Movie Makers Club brought a strange but welcome request to the Pine Cone office last week. For his hobby group's documentary film on Carmel, Montery, Point Lobos and the 17-Mile-Drive, Mr. Hunter wanted movie footage of one of the Pine Cone's junior sales force.

So, the Pine Cone "borrowed" one of its sales agents, Rita Tarantino, 7, to make the scene for him.

Overcome by her cinema debut, she was the quietest of the entourage accompanying her to Ocean Avenue—two camera men from the amateur group; her father, Frank, head of Tarantino's Canned Seafoods; her brother Joey, 8 and vocal over being the better salesman; and her sister Gina, 6, wistful at being under age to sell Pine Cones.

"There are 45 members of our group," Mr. Hunter said. "This is our most ambitious project, our first three-screen production, modeled after something Kodak developed. The movie screen will be flanked by slide screens, so three related scenes show simultaneously."

The film buffs will give private showings of the movie to raise funds for future productions.

"I've learned more about Carmel than some residents know!" chuckled Mr. Hunter, a long-time Village visitor. "I'm impressed with how helpful and obliging everyone has been about our filming."

One disappointment was being unable to turn up a "Hotsy Totsy Doll," long-ago creation of Mrs. Hugh Comstock, whose doll shop was her late husband's inspiration for his 'doll houses" which helped shape Carmel's architectural character. E.B.

Ask Father Migliazzo . . .

Of Carmel Mission, how to pronounce his name and he answers, "O'Malley" — anyway, the sense of humor is Irish!

In Memoriam

CHARLES PUTNAM HERRICK, 1937 - 1968

"But if ever you come beyond the borders as far as the town that lies in a hill dimple at the foot of Kearsarge, never leave it until you have knocked at the door of the brown house under the willow tree at the end of the village street, and there you shall have such news of the land, of its trails and what is astir in them, as one lover of it can give to another."*

(From preface to "The Land of Little Rain" by Mary Austin)

FOR THE GHOST OF MARY AUSTIN

When I came to that brown and wooded house,
the doors were shuttered;
no words returned from curtained windows.

Then, Mary, I turned to sky and tree and mountain.
The hawk told me,
the mesquite and Mount Kearsarge.

Mary, mother, desert lover,
your propet's body gone to rock,
your soul to winey sky,
your old blood runs new in young willows.

Carmel Art Modes

"Skyline Forest" by William Timmins

Summer Art Selections

The Carmel Art Association on Dolores Street, starts this month its summer policy of various selected works of its members in each of its many galleries. There will be no more one man shows until fall.

Three new members have been admitted to the Association. They are William Timmins, J. Burgess and Tonya Carpenter. These new members represent a wide range of style, medium and taste.

The Carmel Art Association has been presenting to the public a vital and important cross section of local art for over 40 years.

Need a carpenter? Plumber? Painter? Trash hauling? Etc.? See our Business Services Directory.

Yelland Show At Carmel Museum

The Carmel Museum of Art, 7th and Dolores, is currently showing the works of Raymond D. Yelland, (1848-1900). Raymond Yelland was born in London, England in 1848 and came to America where he received his first formal education. In 1871 he was asked to remain at the Academy of Design where he received his primary education, as Assistant Professor of Drawing. Yelland was 23 at the time.

In 1873 Yelland made his move to California when he was invited to become Professor of Drawing and Painting at Mills College in Oakland. Probably the most prolific single art instructor in the West, Yelland devoted his mature life to the teaching of his profession.

His first recorded sketching trip to the Monterey Peninsula was in 1874 and in 1876 sketching with Julian Rix, he covered all the many facets of the Monterey area from its bay south to Carmel and Point Lobos and on into Carmel Valley. On exhibit now is his visual record of the Monterey Peninsula as it looked in the last quarter of the 19th Century. Monterey with its railroad mole, the old wagon road across the hill to Carmel, the mouth of Carmel Valley, the whaling station at Point Lobos and, of course, Cypress Point, his favorite area.

The Carmel Museum of Art will continue this exhibit through August.

Teague Shows At Perry House

The Perry House Gallery on Van Buren St. in Monterey is starting to feature one artist a month in their "Hall of Fame." The paintings of Donald Teague were chosen to inaugurate this policy. Donald Teague needs no introduction as his work is widely known and is owned by discriminating collectors throughout the United States.

Mr. Teague was one of 82 selected out of over 1400 artists for the exhibit "Mainstream of "68" at Marietta College in Ohio this June.

Aken Paintings At Peninsula Bank

Paintings by Girard Aken, prominent Carmel artist who is nationally known for his seascapes, are currently being featured at the Monterey office of American Savings and Loan Association of California.

A native of California, Aken studied art at the California School of Fine Arts of San Francisco and the College of Arts and Crafts in Berkeley. He was also tutored by a number of prominent painters such as Thomas C. Leighton, Frederick Grant and the nationally known watercolorist, David Granno.

Aken has exhibited his works at the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco, Oakland Art Museum, California State Fair, and the Egyptian Oriental Museum of San Jose.

"King St., Oxford University" by Muirhead Bone

18th-20th Century Illustrations

A remarkable and selective collection of drawings are on view at the Monterey Museum of Art on Lincoln Street —show, to run thru July 10.

The loan exhibit was obtained through the generosity of the collector, Mr. William Wredes of Atherton. This is a collection of book illustrations covering the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries. Many have the addition of water color. They represent the original drawings for fairy tales, histories, biographies as well as cartoons. Some of these artists were the early illustrators of the works of Charles Dickens and Lewis Carroll.

It's SUNNY in our patio a delightful place to eat.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

This is our land. Let's treat it right.

Spring Into Summer Suppers

Now that summer is officially here, the first thing most of us think about is patio or poolside barbecuing. But what if you haven't acquired a new portable barbecue or hibachi after disposing of last year's overused model? An ordinary garden variety clay pot filled one fourth full with gravel, then with charcoal briquets, and lighted with a chemical liquid starter is the quickest and easiest of all. Grill your steaks, chops, hamburgers and hot dogs 3 inches above the fire on a wire rack. Everyone has a favorite way to accomplish his own particular brand of magic with barbecued meats, but for those who want even more of a specialty try

The Colonel's Regimental Ribs

Two racks of lean spareribs (4 lbs.) 1 cup catsup; 3 T. curry powder; 2 cloves garlic; finely chopped; ½ cup chicken broth or consomme; dash of lemon juice; 1 t., each, salt and cracked pepper.

Let ribs stand in sauce about 2 hours or overnight, turning occasionally. Ingredients for the sauce are given above. Remove ribs from marinade; drain. Barbecue over slow fire, 6 to 8 inches from source of heat for about 1½ hours or until well done. Brush with marinade as they cook, turning frequently so they won't burn. Serves four.

Serve with gin coolers in the best tradition of the old Cavalry; fluffy white rice; broccoli with pecans and a great glass bowl of sweetened fresh cut up fruits.

Or you might try these delicious

Western Kabobs

Two lbs. boneless steak; ½ cup soy sauce; ½ t. ginger; 2 T. salad oil; 1 T. brown sugar; 1 cup pineapple chunks, drained, or fresh pineapple; 1 basket cherry tomatoes.

Cut meat into one inch cubes. Pierce meat with fork so marinade can penetrate. Combine soy sauce, ginger, oil and sugar. Pour over meat cubes; allow to stand for at least one hour. Turn often. Put meat on skewers, leaving space between pieces. Put pineapple chunks and tomatoes on other skewers. Broil meat over hot coals. When meat is turned, add skewers of pineapple and tomatoes to the grill. Brush skewers of food with marinade. Serves six. The secret of this method of making kebabs is to alternate items that require the same cooking time.

Here is another vegetable idea:

Summer Squash Monterey Style

One medium summer squash; 1 t. pimiento pieces; sprinkling of seasoned salt; 1 t. butter; 2 one-inch cubes of Monterey Jack cheese; 2 green pepper slices.

Use a 12 inch square of heavy duty aluminum foil; wash squash; cut into ¼ inch diagonal slices. Put just off center of foil square. Add remaining ingredients. Close packet by bringing the two sides together; roll down almost to food. Roll up each end. Place over medium hot grill. Turn frequently with tongs. Allow about 30 minutes. Makes one serving so prepare as many as you need. Here is a fine tasting low calorie French dressing for all those lovely green salads and svelte shapes!

Low Calorie French Dressing

One t. plain gelatin; 1 T. cold water; ¼ cup boiling water; 3 T. sugar; ½ t. salt, ½ cup lemon juice; ⅛ t. pepper or paprika; dash of dry mustard; ½ garlic clove, minced; 1 t. chives, or green onion, minced; ¼ t. poppy or celery seeds or both.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve with boiling water; add sugar and salt (omit sugar if not desired) and allow to cool. Combine other items and add to gelatin and blend thoroughly. Refrigerate in Mason jar with cover. Makes ¾ cup. One T. has 19 calories, less if sugar is omitted. Try this on fresh fruit salads . . . in which case fattening desserts are foregone.

Men and vigorous teen agers really enjoy a hearty salad with their grilled meat. This one is just right:

Carmelish Tomato Salad

Half cup salad oil; ¼ cup red wine vinegar; salt and cracked pepper to taste; 1 garlic clove, minced; 4 ripe firm tomatoes; 6 large fresh mushrooms; dried sweet basil and paprika to taste; one 15-oz. can chick peas (garbanzos); iceberg lettuce.

Prepare marinade by combining oil, vinegar, salt, pepper and garlic. Shred lettuce and cover bottom of large platter. Cut tomatoes into ½ inch slices. Overlap tomato slices around edge of platter on lettuce bed. Rinse mushrooms in cool water; cut in slices lengthwise. Put on top of tomatoes with basil and paprika. Spoon marinade on each of salad items on platter. Drain garbanzos and add marinade to them in can nd stir. Cover both garbanzos and platter with plastic film; refrigerate. Marinate 2 hours or longer. When ready to serve, put chick peas in footed dish and place in center of platter. Makes 4 generous servings. Have plenty of heated French bread and butter available and hot coffee.

Wildflower Slides At Sierra Club

Highlight of the June 27th (Thursday) meeting of the local Sierra Club's Conservation Committee will be a showing of Carmel Valley photographer Jim Ziegler's color slides of local wildflowers, with accompanying narration by nature conservationist Doyt Early.

The showing is planned to aid the spectator in identifying members of the unusually varied flower population in Monterey County, which boasts 85 per cent of the varieties in the State. Filming took place largely in Carmel Valley meadows and canyons, where photographer Ziegler made studies of mariposa lily, checkerbloom, fiesta flower, bee plant and others. Narrator Doyt Early, whose active interest in botany dates back many years, will describe the habits and haunts of these flowers.

Any interested members of the public are invited to join the meeting, which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Brey Hall of Carmel High School. Following showing of the wildflower slides, Sierra Club members and others who wish to remain will discuss conservation matters including proposed oil drilling in coastal areas of the Country.

AGENT / ALLIED VAN LINES

Movie Company To Headquarter At Holiday Inn

Van Heflin, Julie Harris, and other stars will arrive here on July 16 for a five weeks' stay at the Holiday Inn to film sequences for Warner Brothers' upcoming color motion picture, "The Big Bounce". In addition to Mr. Heflin and Miss Harris there will be approximately 125 cameramen, technicians, crewmen, and executive personnel residing at the Holiday Inn during the filming.

The nearness of the Holiday Inn to Big Sur, Pebble Beach, Carmel Valley and other locations where most pictures are made, is another reason for being the favorite accommodation for the film industry.

More than twenty film production companies have headquartered at the new inn during it's first year of operation. Groups that have made the Holiday Inn their "home away from home" included top actors and personnel to film "Rat Patrol," the popular TV series, and a large contingent from 20th Century Fox to produce "The Lancers," a pilot film scheduled for television showing this fall. Many production companies that produce television commercials for such nationally- known firms as Ford Motor Company and Eastman Kodak have also been guests at Carmel's newest and finest inn.

The availability of a landing area for helicopters at the Holiday Inn, is another feature important to filming of motion pictures. Many sequences are photographed from the air, and the helicopter has become an important tool in the making of theatre and television films.

Carmel Highlands Elects New Officers

The Carmel Highlands Association, composed of residents and property owners in the "Highlands," has re-elected Gordon W. Lundeen as President and Chairman of the Board. The other officers are: Paul F. Gerstenberger, Vice-President; Mrs. Les Johnson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Robert J. Ramsey, Recording Secretary; and Rogers P. Parratt, Treasurer. Also, Mr. John H. Gamble was elected a Member of the Executive Board.

Due to the continuing membership drive, the Association has become substantially enlarged. Additional members are cordially invited to share in the Community Activities.

More families have signed for the Security Patrol. It is actively operating to protect the Carmel Highlands area.

The Carmel Highlands Association approved a letter to the Planning Commission in opposition to geophysical exploration in the offshore area of Monterey County. The letter was read into the record at the recent meeting of the State Lands Commission held in Sacramento.

Our monthly meetings during the past year with staff members of the Monterey County Planning Community and appointed representatives of Carmel Highlands and the Carmel Riviera have resulted in a set of policy statements. These statements emphasize the need for site and density control to preserve the natural beauty of cur coastal hillsides. Presented to the last meeting of the Carmel Highlands Association, the statements and formulas were approved by all present. This has been following by a public meeting, at which time the policy statements were thoroughly discussed and unanimously approved. These have been sent to the Monterey County Planning Commission for development into a Master Plan for our residential area.

Know where Carmel Trafficop Eddie Fischer spent his recent vacation?

Down among the hippies! He trailered below Big Sur and "they were on every side of me."

And did they get the message that the fuzz was among them?

"Guess so," allowed Eddie. "After the Sheriff's car drove in one evening, and we spent a couple of hours shooting the breeze — the hips scattered."

Primitive Dress in Mexico

The above picture is of a Mexican tribal Indian from a village near the city of San Cristobal Las Casas, Mexico. The curious "diaper pants" are actually long baggy trousers tucked up and under.

This picture is from a collection of "Doc" Galyn Hammond's which he showed at a recent Hi 12 meeting. They were taken on his last trip to Mexico when he went on to Mexico City and then drove into the primitive and far southern area. His destination was San Cristobal Las Casas, a city of 23,343 people about 108 miles from Guatemala. The city is in a fertile valley ringed by the Chiapas Mountains. The architecture is predominately Spanish, with narrow winding streets and arcades, low houses with grilled windows and elaborate churches from the period of about the 1500's.

Nevertheless, the atmosphere of this area is definitely Indian and they wear distinctive tribal clothing. Many of the Indians are reputedly descendents from the Mayans who have their own tribal language. They don't speak Spanish (or English) and don't even know about the existence of Mexico City.

Col. Wright Returns From Mexico Visit

Colonel Mason Wright of Carmel travelled and visited cousins in Mexico for three weeks and returned home last Wednesday. He said one of the highlights of his trip was his stay in Gunaajuato where he attended an Indian oriented performance of "Ballet Modern" in the city's ornate gilded opera house.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

If the names Jelly Roll Morton, Bix Beiderbecke, Bessie Smith, and Louis Armstrong awaken happy nostalgia in your mind, this first book is for you. It is a history of jazz written by Gunther Schuller, who is President of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, no less. Jazz began as a distinct style of music around the beginning of the century and the author traces it from that time through the early 1930s when it began to take on other forms. He shows that jazz began in African musical forms which were simplified to become the form as we know it today. The title of the book is EARLY JAZZ. Sanche de Gramont has written a new book which tells of the lives of Louis the XIV, Louis the XV, and Louis the XVI. While the book is French history, the style of writing is such that it reads with the speed and interest of fiction. This is the story of a time when "an opulant court decayed through boredom, and a rich and growing nation let more and more of its people starve". The title is EPITAPH FOR KINGS.

The newspapers are full of accounts of heart transplants, and thus it was inevitable that someone would write a book about them. We have THE TRANSPLANTED HEART by Peter Hawthorne, who is a South African journalist. Specifically, this is the story of the Washkansky transplant by Dr. Chris Barnard. It is the story of his life, his devotion to heart surgery, and his successful transplant. The reader may be slightly put off by the fact that he is called Professor instead of Doctor, and the nurses are called sisters. There are two Barnard brothers who are surgeons. They work together. This is their story. Washkansky died, but medical history was made by the operation.

There went into circulation this week a new book on horoscopes, a subject which interests a great many people. Joseph Goodavage has done this book and called it WRITE YOUR OWN HOROSCOPE and several people on the library staff are planning to do just that. The strange thing about horoscopes seems to be that if you read the ones in the various daily papers there never seems to be a shred of agreement. One will exhort you to have a good time tomorrow and entertain your friends while the other one will caution you to stay quietly at home and spend no money because you will probably be cheated. This do-it-yourself type of horoscope might be the answer, provided you have faith in your own work.

BOYS AND SEX by Dr. Wardell Pomeroy seems to be a level headed discussion of the entire subject of sex in the young boy. It also seems to be the type of book a parent could give to a boy when he is about eight years of age or as soon as he evidences interest in the subject. It is directed at the boy himself, not the parent, and is meant to be read by him not to him.

Just one final word, and that one about CLOSE-UP by John Gruen. It is a collection of interviews with famous people, each one with a photograph, some of the latter better than others. The personages come from the movies, the theatre, and the worlds of art and music. Very interesting.

CORD BACK IN ACTION

One of the greatest automotive designs of all time is back in the auto business!

Selling only two cars a day, the CORD is being built in Tulsa, Oklahoma and Ed Leslie, longtime auto enthusiast, has this one at Leslie Motors in Monterey. It's not the 4/5 Corvair powered front wheel drive, but a product of the new company, reengineered to be 8" wider, 6" longer and 2" lower. It meets the 1968 Federal Safety requirements. Designed to be fully useful, it is not a "replica" which collectors refused to by in scale form. The 1968 Cord is a beautiful fully functional convertible. It features Ford's latest 302" V-8, selective-shift automatic transmission and differential, and has everything from wide oval tires to tinted glass. It has power steering, air conditioning, power windows and breaks, AM-FM radio, bucket seats, and full Stewart Warner instrumentation.

Leslie has been appointed a dealer for the Cord, but admits that he really was "a customer" who went for the classic styling in modern engineering." "I can now really enjoy using it as well as sit back and gaze at it" Ed says Cord offers 15-30 day delivery and in any color top and trim the customer selects. Very interesting — the '68 Cord!

Christian Science Sunday Sermon

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This question is the topic of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Everyone is welcome.

The Golden Text, from Proverbs, states the theme of the Lesson: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens."

Among passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "God creates and governs the universe, including man."

Jesuit to Preach June 23

The Rev. James Empereur, a member of the Society of Jesus, will be guest preacher at All Saints Episcopal Church at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. service on June 23. A doctoral student in Protestant Theology at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Fr. Empereur will return the following weekend to officiate jointly with Fr. Hill at the wedding of Miss Janis Gholson of our parish to Mr. Alan Petitte of Alameda in the Carmel Mission Basilica on June 29th.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Clara Peckham Lawrence, 81, widow of Col. Charles G. Lawrence, former resident of Carmel and active in community affairs for many years, died in Berlin, Germany recently. Mrs. Lawrence had made her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Robert G. Fergusson, since her husband's death in 1963.

Her husband was retired for physical disability in 1920, but was recalled to active duty three times, the last tour during World War II. During his periods of retirement, they lived in Carmel where her daughter, Charlotte was an active member of Edward Kuster's Golden Bough Players and other local drama groups. Mrs. Lawrence was the grandmother of 1st. Lt. Robert L. Fergusson, who died in 1967 of wounds received in Vitetnam. Gen. Fergusson, having completed a tour of duty as commandant at Fort Ord, was at that time and still is serving as U. S. Army commanding general in Berlin.

Mrs. Lawrence will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia.

Lt. Gen. Ying H. Wen, 81, father of Victor Wen, chairman of MAFAC Department, Defense Language Institute at the Presidio, died recently in Silver Spring, Maryland. Gen. Wen, a retired officer of the Nationalist Chinese Army, was the first Chinese graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. He returned to China in 1911 and participated in the revolution overthrowing the Manchu Dynasty and establishing the Republic of China. He later served as military secretary to the Republic's first president, Dr. Sun Yatsen. He held a variety of important posts before and after World War II when he was on President's Chiang Kaishek's staff. Later he was delegate to the United Nations Military Staff Committee. After retirement in 1951 he lived in Washington, D.C. Besides Victor Wen, Gen. Wen is survived by five other sons, a daughter, and many grandchildren.

Granddaughter's Graduation

The grandparents of Diane Herr who was graduated from Carmel High School last week, arrived here from the north of France for the event. They are Mr. and Mrs. Marceau Dupont, the parents of Genevieve Herr, who with her husband Clyde Herr, run La Marmite restaurant in the little court on San Carlos near 7th.

Incidentally . . .

Now we know what's in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, thanks to Mrs. Hiram Broils and Derek Lawford who phoned us last week with information pertinent to this (I thought) obscure little place. It seems Jackson Hole is located at the bottom of the Grand Teton Mountains with views rivalling our own Pacific Coast. The town is a little old West town and resembles a movie set complete with board sidewalks. During the tourist season Stage Coach rides are attractions just as the daily holdups by bandits. At night, to complete the picture, a melodrama is performed in an appropriate theatre. Nearby is a compound where elk are kept during the winter months. That's Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

Ever so often Bob and Judy Evans of the Studio Theatre hold rehearsals in their home near the Mission Ranch on Dolores Street. Last week during such a gathering the cast was going through their dance numbers for "The Boy Friend" scheduled to run alternately this summer with "Carnival," and the music drifting into the street drew an interesting visitor to the home. A man walked through the front door and stood looking around. Judy naturally assumed he was the father of one of the cast members, so she approached the gentleman and entered conversation; briefly, we might add, because he looked at her perculiarly and asked, "This is the Mission Ranch isn't it?"

The Chamber Trio will be presented in concert by the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society June 28 at the Carmel Museum of Art located in the old Wells Fargo Bank building on Dolores. This is just another benefit by the Art Association, which by the way, is seeking new members.

Now's our chance to read and tell. A Great Books Reading and Discussion Group is being formed and will first meet Wednesday, July 10. Register with Mrs. Barbara Torrell at 624-2334. The group plans to meet in the conference room, Hospital House, Valley Way and Highway One.

We Carmelites have recently seen the establishment of a business on our main street providing tourists with more food to eat while shopping in our fine, elegant stores. We even noticed, not one but a number, of tourists munching on bananas dipped in chocolate.

OBITUARIES

Daniel Joseph Morgan, a Carmel real estate man called Danny by everyone who knew him for the past 22 years, died Monday. He was born in Hartford, Connecticut in 1905.

His office was at the corner of Ocean and Dolores streets. He and his wife, Barbara, made their home on 2nd Avenue, between Santa Fe and Santa Rita streets.

Danny used to be a Hollywood stunt man, years ago. He also was a great horseman and used to judge horse shows at the County Fair.

He also leaves a son, Daniel H. Morgan III of Monterey, a daughter, Shannon Morgan of Carmel, and a granddaughter, Tiffany Carol Morgan.

Friends wishing to make contributions in his memory may do so to the Cobalt Therapy Unit at the Community Hospital, P.O. Box HH, Carmel.

Bess Shaw Tickle, 92, wife of former Sen. E. H. Tickle, died Monday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Richard (Marguerite) Tickle of Pebble Beach. She and Sen. Tickle made their permanent home here about 50 years ago, for many years at Shafter way and Hatton road in Carmel, until recently.

Contributions in her memory may be made to the Community Hospital Building Fund, Carmel.

Mayor Barney Laiolo took time out from his busy schedule Tuesday to take the RAP test designed to tell whether or not he is susceptible to alcohol problems. RAP, a member of the National Council on Alcoholism of the Monterey Peninsula, headed by Executive Director Mary Ross, will station their van in the Post Office parking lot every third Tuesday of each month to administer these tests. One doesn't necessarily have to drink to take advantage of these tests . . . they are only to measure susceptibility. A social drinker can benefit greatly from the examinations. RAP will be in the parking lot next Tuesday, June 25 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mayor Laiolo, by the way, scored low, which means he doesn't have to worry. Do you?

The Carmel Rotary Club enjoyed a program of music at their meeting yesterday at the LaPlaya. Mayor Barney Laiolo, Superintendent Harris Taylor and Ed Neroda took to the stage and provided music that the club will likely remember for years.

Letter To The Editor

Praise is seldom written for today's young people, I, for one, and speaking for the other chaperons, would like to publicly praise those who took part in Carmel High School's Graduation Party and Trip to Disneyland. We had a ball.

We came home dead tired but happy that all of our planning had been appreciated. The boys and girls were a credit to Carmel and I feel a perfect example of how they play when given the rules and consequences for breaking the rules. We bent a few rules but they were straightened out.

Our thanks to the band who donated their time to play at the Party preceding the trip.

The trip down after graduation and buffet was full of songs, laughter, card games and generally happy, loud sounds. While there, of course, they were on their own, and at closing time came back to the busses. Excitement was still in charge but sleep soon took over and we were home about 6 a.m.

Many people who thought us crazy for trying something like this are feasting on their words and thoughts.

Thanks kids, (excuse me) GRADUATES. We were prepared for the worst but received only the best.

Good luck in your new life.

Sincerely,
Mrs. DeAmaral
Mrs. Spindles
Mrs. Newman
Mrs. Powers
Mr. Artellan
Mr. DeMaria
Mr. Nancpal

Who Is Perfect?

The Carmel Business Association was reprimanded in the Herald for spelling Carte Blanche (the credit card) "Carta Blancha." Still, the critique contained a misspelled word and a capital error. Such is newspaper life.
